The Daniele Co. CEO is Keynote Speaker at First Annual Piedmont Regional Contractors Symposium

An excellent opportunity to present business strategy in the Triad Region is how Gloria Shealey, President/CEO of The Daniele Company in Durham, NC best described her talk at the First Annual Piedmont Regional Contractors Symposium in Winston-Salem recently.

Sponsored by Goler Community Development Corporation on Thursday, September 17, 2009, the one-day event which drew more than 200 attendees was designed to bring together local/regional and state project owners with contractors, lenders, government funding, labor representatives and other resources to create jobs and improve the economic activity in the Piedmont Region. According to symposium officials the Triad market has the potential to attract $3 billion in contract opportunities.

"The (afternoon) session I facilitated included presentations from 10 different owners or General Contractors/CM," Shealey continued. "I also included in my presentation 'Strategies for Perseverance' as a guide for contractors to address the current economic conditions."

Goler Community Development Corporation is leading the community building effort to create the multi-generational, mixed income neighborhood on 15 acres bounded by Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard, Patterson Avenue, Piedmont Triad Research Park and the Downtown Arts District in Winston Salem, NC.
